The Financial Outlook.

The New York World says: The fact that a considerable number of mills and factories have recently shut down has given the habitual croakers an opportunity to renew their gloomy prognostications as to the future. The scheme does not seem to work well, and in business circles there is apparently a disposition to take a more hopeful view of the general financial and commercial situation. It is well known that the temporary shutting down by the manufacturers and the reduction in wages are both the result of the past events rather than the result of any new developments in the business affairs of the country. Over production of metals, coal, cotton manufactures, etc., etc., a few years since naturally brought about extremely low prices, and with a desire in all directions to curtail consumption to pressing wants, there has been more or less depression in all branches of trade. The movement looking towards reduced wages will not, it is confidently believed, cause any uprising of labor for the reason that the necessities of life are now obtainable more cheaply than for many years. These concomitants of the situation will ultimately correct many evils, and, in connection with other causes now appearing, assist in building up trade in various channels.

Since the election there has been a substantial improvement in the dry goods business and the distributive movement has increased materially. In this and in other branches there is an impression that bed-rock prices have been touched, and that delay in making purchases may only result in having to pay higher figures. When this view becomes general there will be witnessed an improvement similar to that noticed in the department of dry goods. The success of the Democratic party has already inspired the confidence among the mercantile classes and the future is looked forward to with cheerfulness, it being generally expected that the legislation will be so shaped as to bring lasting benefits to the business interests. The recent utterances of President-elect Cleveland Mr. Hendricks are calculated to stimulate this feeling of confidence, and to impart fresh courage to those about to embark in new enterprises. The outlook is certainly more favorable and the shutting down of mills in consequence of troubles dating back several years will soon give place to a more healthy and satisfactory condition of affairs.

The Cowboys' Life.

(Cincinnati Times-Star.)

The whirligig of time, writes a cowboy from the Indian Territory, has wrought a wonderful change in the occupation of the Fraternity. When I was a boy, he says, there was six months in the year we did nothing but roam the prairie under a roaring fire in the snug and roomy dug-out. At least on roasted turkey and other equally as palatable game was an every day occurrence. Should a dispute arise as to whose duty it was to prepare the meat, the most deformed general consent until hunger drove someone's ambition up to the standpoint of undertaking the job. The overwhelmingly laborious duty of a half day's work in securing fuel enough to last for a month fell upon him who secured the lesser number of notches faithfully cut in a black-jack handle for each man as his winnings at old sledge, who was the principal amusement as we assembled at the camp fire.

But now the youth who succeeds in ungendering himself in a cow camp gets wonderfully left. The round-up which was considered good exercise and a lot of fun is now merged into a gigantic round-up. But the worst of all, and something the old-time cowboy never dreamed of, is retiring to winter quarters. The cowboy sums the duties of feeding his horse to a thousand head of cattle which roam over the prairie during the winter months. At this season of the year, it was his duty to snooze under a shabby tree near the herd, with his mustang staked close by. Now he follows the hum of the moving machine and the setting sun finds him suffocated with the heat, and almost choked with hay seed, carefully erecting a hay stack six miles away from his biscuits and grease.

"Aren't you in a good deal of a hurry about getting your ston doors up?" "Not an hour too soon. My wife's mother will arrive at noon."

The Breckenridge Master.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 26.—A sensation was created here by the publication in the Boston Knight of Honor Reporter, charging that Robert J. Breckenridge, late Supreme Treasurer of the Knights of Honor, was a defaulter to the sum of $100,000. Colonel Breckenridge pronounces the thing a falsehood. He said: "I was ordered by the Knights of Honor to pay out $100,000 after October 18 last. For this reason there is a considerable amount of money in the People's Bank to the credit of the Knights of Honor."

Colonel Breckenridge will sue for libel.

Hunters' Laid in the Storm.

FLORENCE, Wis., Nov. 26.—Mike Navin, a miner, and Solomon Pelch, a salmon keeper and homesteader, of this county, have been lost in the woods for five days. One hundred men have been searching for Navin, who is an expert woodsman, and have been on the trail of Pelch. Both men started for a hunt, but did not go together. The weather has been severely cold and stormy, and a deep snow has fallen since they left home. It is feared that they are dead. A number of persons have been lost and perished in the great forest hereabouts. Every season one or more inexperienced hunters leave for the woods never to return.

The Murderous Apaches.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 26.—Adjutant General King has received a letter from Captain Baylor, of the frontier troops, giving details of the recent murderous raid on the Upper Rio Grande by a band of hostile Indians. Baylor says the band consists of sixty straggling Apaches and other Indians from the New Mexican Reservations and about thirty Indians from Old Mexico. He anticipates that these blood-thirsty out-throats will cause great trouble to Texas unless they are immediately pun and exterminated.

258 DAYS WITHOUT FOOD

The Remarkable and Continuous Fast of Kate Smulley.

Nothing Has Passed Her Lips Since March 11, and She Has No Desire for Anything—The Flesh Bloated and Abnormal.

PORT PLAIN, N. Y., via Canajoharie, Nov. 26.—Kate Smulley, who has now fasted 258 days has materially changed in the last few weeks. She is but slightly weaker, the irritable shaking of her body and arms still continuing. The appearance of her flesh is not such as would be expected of one who endured such a protracted fast, but is rather bloated and abnormal in complexion. She receives the best of care from her mother, who continually watches by her side.

Miss Smulley last tasted food on the 11th of March. Her mother testified to this and adds that she earnestly wishes that her daughter would take something. Kate herself talks little and in a scarcely audible voice. She says she has no appetite for anything, even were she in a condition to eat. She is firm in the belief that she will eventually be restored to health. Dr. Zoller, the family physician, says that she takes no medicine now, and has not for some time.

"It is a very strange case," said the doctor to a reporter yesterday. "I did not know what to think of it. To exist without nourishment for this length of time is contrary to all medical science, and yet during all my attendance on her I have never seen her eat anything, nor have I discovered any indication that she has done so. I have frequently advised her to eat anything her stomach could stand and have been as delicate as to her, but she always absolutely refused to partake of them. How much longer she can live in this condition I can not say."

There is no question in this community as to the veracity of the Smulley family, who are highly respected. They were very reluctant in allowing the case to reach public notice, and are extremely diffident now on being approached with inquiries concerning the girl's condition.

Miss Smulley was twenty years old on the 24th ult.

A Family Poisoned.

BINGHAMTON, Nov. 25.—Benjamin Bentley and his family, consisting of his wife, a child one year old, his wife's niece, Sarah Reidy and her nephew, Thomas Reidy, moved into the house No. 105 Elm street. They are super-late Thursday night and on the 26th, spreading their mattresses on the floor. They were not about Friday, and the neighbors, hearing the crying of the child, prepared to force their way into the house, when suddenly the young woman Sarah Reidy unlocked the fastening to the hall door and came out in a partly crumpled dress. The neighbors then rushed into the back room and there found the entire family, save the baby, nearly dead. Doctors were at once summoned and Miss Reidy was soon able to tell what they had for supper, namely, fried potatoes, tea, and cookies. The other members of the family suffered very little, and recovery during the night, but Mr. Bentley and the boy are believed to be out of danger, while Mrs. Bentley is still insensible to all her surroundings. It was not gas from the stove, as their canary and baby, were all right. The cause, the doctors say, must have been poison.

Field Contents by Hunting Dogs.

HONOLULU, N. C., Nov. 26.—The trials of the Eastern Club have been concluded here. The weather was clear and the grounds good. In the first trial, all ages, Ferman won the first prize. His owner was offered $2,000 for him. Diana II. and Paul Gladstone divided the second prize. In the Derby trial, first series, the best heat, Gladstone, Paul Gladstone, best Pochontas, Drake beat Blue Lily, Gladstone Boy beat Princess Hamlet, and Belle of Piedmont beat January. In the second series Gladstone beat Paul Gladstone, Gladstone Boy beat Blue Lily, Belle of Piedmont a bye. In the third series Belle of Piedmont ran against Clifford, but the latter was ruled out. Gladstone Boy won first prize and Blue Lily second. The third prize was divided between Drake and Clifford.

An Earthquake in Peru.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 26, via Galveston.—A strong shock of earthquake was felt here at 7:13 o'clock this morning. Its motion was from southwest to northeast. There was unusual electric disturbance. Clouds of dust were visible from three to five miles from Callao, where portions of the cliff were shaken down on the beach. The walls of many houses were cracked, and some were shaken down. In Callao there is a series of cracks nine yards from the edge of the cliff.

Miss Nevada's Triumph.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Miss Emma Nevada contented and charmed a large number of people last evening at the Academy, and she received an ovation which she richly merited. Miss Nevada far excelled in sweetness, grace and elegance of singing, because her singing is the remarkable pianissimo which she uses so frequently, and the exquisite way in which she diminishes a tone. The debutante was recalled many times.

Disastrous Runaway Accident.

MATTOON, Ill., Nov. 26.—News has reached here of a disastrous runaway accident near Leas last Saturday. Two wagons loaded with young people were overturned. George A. Bell had his nose broken, and Thomas Hendricks was severely injured in the head and hand. Miss Nellie Hart received spinal injuries, and her recovery is despaired of. David Hart broke his hand and fractured his skull; his recovery is also doubtful. Miss Mary Dumbauld was knocked senseless.

Their Little Game Checked.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 26.—Sixteen of forty horses captured from horse-thieves near Glendora have been seized by special agents of the United States Treasury Department, on the charge that they were smuggled across the Canadian line. It is the first seizure of the kind and is chiefly noteworthy because the horse-thieves frequently avoided judicial proceedings by jailing the stock was found in their possession when they came from Canada.

The Gundoloupe a Complete Wreck.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The signal corps station at Barnegat City reports the steamer Gundoloupe as broken in two amidsips, and a total wreck. The cargo is being removed to the lighters.

Cuticura

A POSITIVE CURE

FOR EVERY FORM OF SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASE, FROM PIMPLES TO SCROFULA.

I have had the Psoriasis for nine months. About five months ago I applied to a doctor near Boston, who treated me, but unfortunately I had to leave, but continued taking his medicine for nearly three months, but the disease did not leave. I saw Dr. Carpenter's letter in the Philadelphia Record, and his case perfectly described mine. I tried the Cuticura Remedies, using two bottles Curel, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap in proportion, and call myself completely cured. Waterford, N. J.
